the framework of its relations with Europe and with the Americas (north and south). My critical inquires have to do with processes of decolonization, colonial legacies, nationalisms, and the