supporting faculty, but also high levels of understanding of the rest of academic life. He is a lovely person and will command a lot of respect with our academic l eaders.

6. Senator Annibali: I was a part of one of the focus groups where we focused on reputation, but my question focuses on student employment. What is the best way for student employees and administration to come together to address issues?
    a. I was made aware of this issue and I am awaiting a study about raising the wage for students. We have a spectrum from $8.50 to well over $15 and we are looking to boost these numbers. Just waiting on this research but our goal is to have this ready at the beginn ing of the Fall semester. If student employees want to speak to someone, Student Affairs and HR would be great contacts.
7. Tyler: There has been a lot of frustration about the new possible guidelines; what would you say to students who are feeling concerned?
    a. Our perspective was that we were communicating with students to some degree. This is something that we are thinking about in the wake of changes in New York state law. We needed more time, but I wanted the campus to know that we are deep in discussion an answer right now. As of right now, there have been no changes but if you are a leader and have a position on these issues, we are all ears because this is a complicated issue. What I am being told is that we may not need the masks anymore, but we have older people, immunocompromised people so we have to consider everything. This may be something with a lot of gray areas in it.
8. Kada: We discussed this policy within our club and we feel like disabled individuals have been left out of the co nversation.
9. DREAM Representative: We are pushing the mask mandate to stay in place as those with disabilities, specifically with mobility devices contracting COVID present more difficulty.
    a. The question that we are wrestling with is, when is the risk comp being told is that boosted individuals are not suffering as severely from COVID
